Prof. Eugene Spafford

Purdue University

EDUCATION:

Georgia Institute of Technology
   Ph.D., Information and Computer Science, 1986
   M.S., Information and Computer Science, 1981
State University College of Brockport, NY
   B.A., Mathematics and Computer Science, 1979

WORK EXPERIENCE:

Purdue University, IN
   Professor, Computer Sciences and Philosophy, 1998-Present
   Director of the Center For Education and Research for Information Assurance And Security,
      (CERIAS), 1998-Present
   Professor, Computer Sciences and Director of the COAST Lab, 1997-1998
   Associate Professor, Computer Sciences and Director of the COAST Lab, 1993-1997
   Assistant Professor, Computer Sciences, 1987-1993
Georgia Institute of Technology
   Research Scientist II, 1986-1987

AREAS OF EXPERTISE:

Information systems and security and computer system reliability

PROFESSIONAL/SCIENTIFIC/HONORARY AFFILIATIONS:

Fellow of the ACM, Fellow of the AAAS, Fellow of the IEEE, Charter Member of the IEEE Computer
Society's Golden Core, IEEE Computer Society Meritorious Service Certificate, Elected to Upsilon Pi
Epsilon, Elected to Sigma Xi, Recipient of 2000 National Software Systems Security Award from
NIST/NCSC